Literacy Objectives - Year 3 and 4

Literacy Objectives - year 3 and 4
Handwriting and presentation	Reading: Word reading and comprehension.	Writing: Transcription Pupils should be using joined handwriting throughout	At this stage, teaching comprehension should be taking	use further prefixes and suffixes and understand how to add their independent writing. Handwriting should	precedence over teaching word reading directly.	them (English Appendix 1) continue to be taught, with the aim of increasing the		and the state of the second second fluency with which pupils are able to write down	apply their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes	spell further homophones what they want to say. This, in turn, will support their	and suffixes (etymology and morphology) as listed in	spell words that are often misspelt (English Appendix 1) composition and spelling.	English Appendix 1, both to read aloud and to understand the meaning of new words they meet	place the possessive apostrophe accurately in words with use the diagonal and horizontal strokes that are	read further exception words, noting the unusual	regular plurals [for example, girls', boys'] and in words with needed to join letters and understand which letters,	correspondences between spelling and sound, and where	irregular plurals [for example, children's] when adjacent to one another, are best left unjoined	these occur in the word. increase the legibility, consistency and quality of their		use the first two or three letters of a word to check its handwriting [for example, by ensuring that the	develop positive attitudes to reading and understanding	spelling in a dictionary downstrokes of letters are parallel and equidistant;	of what they read by:	write from memory simple sentences, dictated by the that lines of writing are spaced sufficiently so that the		teacher, that include words and punctuation taught so far.
ascenders and descenders of letters do not touch].	listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks	Revision of Y1 and 2 + Grammar, punctuation and Vocabulary	reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes	-Adding suffixes beginning with vowel letters to words of develop their understanding of the concepts set out		more than one syllable in English Appendix 2 by:	using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that	- The /I/ sound spelt y elsewhere than at the end of words extending the range of sentences with more than one	they have read clause by using a wider range of conjunctions,	in any single have the still with a still second of the star	- The / / Λ sound spelt ou including when, if, because, although	increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books,	Mara profives including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling	- More prefixes: using the present perfect form of verbs in contrast to	some of these orally	- The suffix –ation the past tense	identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books	- The suffix –ly choosing nouns or pronouns appropriately for clarity		Manda with andings so unding like (so / on /t/s / and cohesion and to avoid repetition	preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to	- Words with endings sounding like /ʒə/ or /tʃə/using conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions to	perform, showing understanding through intonation,	- Endings which sound like /ʒən/express time and cause	tone, volume and action
		- The suffix –ous
using fronted adverbials	discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's	Endinge which cound like (for / and tice sizei interest and imagination	 Endings which sound like /ʃən/, spelt -tion, -sion, -ssion, - learning the grammar for years 3 and 4 in English		cian

Appendix 2	recognising some different forms of poetry [for example,	- Words with the /k/ sound spelt ch (Greek in origin) indicate grammatical and other features by:	free verse, narrative poetry]	Words with the /ʃ/ sound spelt ch (mostly French in origin)
using commas after fronted adverbials	understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by:	- Words ending with the /g/ sound spelt – gue and the /k/indicating possession by using the possessive apostrophe with plural nouns 🛛 using and punctuating direct speech	checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context	sound spelt –que (French in origin) - Words with the /s/ sound spelt sc (Latin in origin) Words with the /eɪ/ sound spelt ei, eigh, or ey use and understand the grammatical terminology in English Appendix 2 accurately and appropriately	asking questions to improve their understanding of a text	- Possessive apostrophe with plural words when discussing their writing and reading	drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying	- Homophones and near-homophones
Key terminology:	inferences with evidence	Writing: Composition adverb, preposition conjunction word family, prefix	une disting a school asight house a from slotsile stated and	plan their writing by:
clause, subordinate clause direct speech	predicting what might happen from details stated and implied	discussing writing similar to that which they are planning to consonant, consonant letter vowel, vowel letter inverted commas (or 'speech marks')	identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these	write in order to understand and learn from its structure, vocabulary and grammar I discussing and recording ideas +Year 4		draft and write by: identifying how language, structure, and presentation	composing and rehearsing sentences orally (including determiner	contribute to meaning	dialogue), progressively building a varied and rich vocabulary pronoun, possessive pronoun adverbial	retrieve and record information from non-fiction	and an increasing range of sentence structures (English participate in discussion about both books that are read	Appendix 2) to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say	organising paragraphs around a theme turns and listening to what others say	in narratives, creating settings, characters and plot in non-narrative material, using simple organisational devices [for example, headings and sub-headings] evaluate and edit by:
		assessing the effectiveness of their own and others' writing and suggesting improvements proposing changes to grammar and vocabulary to improve consistency, including the accurate use of pronouns in sentences

	proof-read for spelling and punctuation errors read aloud their own writing, to a group or the whole class, using appropriate intonation and controlling the tone and volume so that the meaning is clear.