

What have we been learning this week?

Summer 2—Week beginning 7. 7.25

We have been sorting vegetables into the correct sound group. We have made patterns with different vegetables in the art area. We have been paddling in water to keep cool and learning about being safe in the sun. Our older children enjoyed lunch in the main hall this week.

Literacy

This week we have enjoyed reading 'The Giant of Jum'. We have been re-reading books and asking the children what all the different parts of the book are; front cover, back cover, pages, spine, the author and the illustrator. Some children created their own stories, they were so good we showed them to Mrs. Wetton.

Math's

This week we have been playing counting games and singing number songs. We have been making long and short sounds and been creating patterns in the mark making area.

Next Term

Next week is a transition week for many of our children visiting reception class. We will be supporting the children both with transitions and learning how to be our older children in nursery. We will be writing invitations and planning a party for Friday.

We would welcome any donations of food for our class party on Friday. On Friday the children can wear whatever they would like. We break up on Friday for summer holiday.
